

HOW TO PROPERLY
DISPOSE OF USED OILS

When disposing of used oils, it is important that you contact your local environment or waste management authorities for advice on their safe disposal.

Used oils must not be disposed of by burning.

Burning of used oils may result in significant levels of hazardous emissions to the environment, and the generation of persistent organic pollutants