

WHAT ARE USED OILS?

Used oils come from using lubricant oils and other hydraulic fluids - in engines of cars, trucks, buses and in generators in power stations.

Oils contain a range of compounds which may be toxic and are bad for our health and environment.

So used oil must be stored carefully - it cannot be thrown out with other rubbish.