

BT-552

WHY ARE USED OILS DANGEROUS?

Used oils must be disposed of properly.

This involves draining the used oil from the engine of a truck or vehicle, and then storing it for reuse, recycling, or shipping offsite.

If used oil enters the environment it can pollute drinking water, our food resources and local aquatic ecosystems such as rivers, ponds and lakes.